PLANT SCIENCE (PH.D.)

University Ph.D. requirements apply. Additional specific requirements are determined by the student's graduate committee.

1. Students will be able to analyze and evaluate their original research against published literature and communicate their findings to other scientists, stakeholders, and the general public.