

EDUCATION (ED.D.)

Doctor of Education. Major in Education.

University doctoral requirements apply. Additional specific requirements are determined by the student's graduate committee.

Code	Title	Hours
Learning, Leadership, and Innovation Core
EDD 6013	Innovation, Learning, and Leadership Foundations	3
EDD 6015	Leading Organizational Change and Innovation	3
EDD 6022	Relational Leadership for Belonging and Equity	3
EDD 6031	Ethical Policy Innovation	3
EDD 6042	Community Grounded Leadership and Communication	3
EDD 6055	Organizational Evaluation and Improvement Science	3
EDD 6070	Innovation and Learning in Organizations	3
EDD 6075	Strategic Mentoring and Supervision	3
EDD 6080	Conflict Management and Communication	3
Research Core
EDD 6025	Innovations in Research through Improvement Science	3
EDD 6035	Applied Qualitative Research	3
EDD 6045	Applied Quantitative Research	3
EDD 6060	Applied Data Collection and Analysis	3
Dissertation in Practice
EDD 6051	Problem of Practice and Literature Review	3
EDD 6065	Methodology	3
EDD 6085	Data Analysis and Recommendations	3
EDD 6090	Dissertation Defense and Final Edits	6
Total Hours		54

1. Leadership Skills: Graduates demonstrate collaborative leadership skills for effective administration, management, and decision-making.
2. Research Proficiency: Graduates independently apply scholarly research competencies to design, conduct, analyze, interpret, and implement results.
3. Policy Analysis: Graduates analyze policies for their impact on diverse stakeholders.
4. Theory to Practice Integration: Graduates apply theoretical knowledge and research findings to address real-world challenges and opportunities relevant to their profession.
5. Ethical Decision-Making: Graduates demonstrate ethical awareness and decision-making skills.
6. Impactful Communication: Graduates articulate complex ideas, research findings, and policy recommendations to diverse stakeholders.
7. Fostering Innovative Learning: Graduates develop and implement strategies to cultivate innovative learning cultures within organizations and diverse contexts, leveraging emerging technologies and creative instructional methods and adapting to rapidly evolving challenges in their professional fields.