The degree map is a guide for the timely completion of your curricular requirements. Your academic advisor or department may be contacted for assistance in interpreting this map. This map is not reflective of your academic history or transcript and it is not official notification of completion of degree or certificate requirements. Please contact the Registrar’s Office regarding your official degree/certificate completion status.

1. Students should be able to explain the historical context that shapes human consciousness and action and identify those factors which shape continuity and change in diverse human communities.

2. Students should recognize the rich diversity of human artifacts, reflect upon how they illuminate the historical past, and use them to make meaning of the human experience.

3. Students should understand historical evidence and interpretation, assess their strengths and weaknesses, and situate both in broader scholarly debate.

4. Students can formulate historical questions and engage in independent research and inquiry.

5. Students demonstrate command of formal language and can exchange ideas in a cogent, coherent, and respectful manner.

6. Students can apply historical knowledge so they can reflect upon global human experience and complexity.
