This position could be in a university or an R&D division of a corporation, non-profit, non-governmental organization, or K The purpose is to prepare students for education, organization, and social research activities in their futures. The course focus is on our collegial research projects and processes and not on traditional content sharing. While there is some content that will be shared such as CITI Training, IRB information, experiences of the instructor(s) in publishing, collaborating, grant writing, conferences, and most importantly the processes of collaborative research (including coming to the question, framing research, theoretical foundations, literature reviews, methodological decision making, data collection, data analysis, writing up research and similar research tasks), the vast majority of the course is organized in a hands-on fashion in which students engage in research alongside faculty and not just read about it, think about it, or study it.
