- 1. Learn and Integrate: Students completing the program will obtain knowledge in understanding individual and family development across the lifespan as well as gain practical experience via community engagement, internships, and career development and professional skill-building opportunities. With a focus on theories of human development and the qualities and factors associated with healthy relationships and strong family dynamics, this degree prepares students for multiple and varied career paths in human services, continued educational and research opportunities in graduate programs, and applied skills for improving their own and others' well-being.
- 2. Think and Create: Use critical thinking, problem solving, the creative process, and integrate information across disciplines to address the complex issues facing individuals and families locally, statewide, nationally, and globally.
- 3. Communicate: Express ideas clearly; acquire, articulate, create, and convey intended meaning using written and verbal methods of communication, and state-of-the-art technology where appropriate; use and value communication skills (listening, speaking, writing) with diverse audiences; critically read, evaluate, and communicate knowledge of; articulate the philosophy, integration and benefit of family studies and a lifespan perspective of human development.
- 4. Clarify Purpose and Perspective: Students will be thoughtful and sensitive to the values of others, be able to work with others with value systems different from their own; and appreciate and respect diversity.
- 5. Practice Citizenship: Advocate for and influence ethical family policies, value family diversity and community relationships, participate in a leadership role in student activities and organizations, adhere to and model professional and ethical standards.
